(By Associated Press.)
EL PASO, Tex., Nov. 25.—Constitutional officers in Juarez at noon reported the rebels had been driven back all along the rebel front and that General Pancho Villa had ordered a general advance of his men against the Huerta forces, declared to be in retreat.

A general advance was ordered by Villa at 10 o'clock, according to the formation given out in Juarez. It was said that the rebels had succeeded in driving the Huerta forces back from the center and that only fighting in the south was still directed against the Huerta forces at Zaragoza, east of Yula.

Colonel Juan N. Medina denied any knowledge of the capture of Salazar, but the report was current in Yula, that it was a prisoner. It was reported in Yula that Villa had been personally directing his men against Salazar and that he had lost ground steadily, his men slowly driving the rebels toward Juarez.

REBELS DRIVE FROM TOWER

An Associated Press correspondent stationed at the top of a wireless telegraph tower 200 feet high, three miles east of El Paso, confirmed the report that the rebels were falling back south of Juarez. He could see the Huerta forces, but the battle had ceased at Zaragoza, opposite Yula. The fighting was still in progress south of Juarez, but the battle had ceased at Zaragoza, opposite Yula.

General Salazar, a rebel general, but now a Huerta commander, was said to be leading the Huerta forces. He was seen today reported a prisoner but officials in Juarez declared they knew nothing of his capture.

The fighting was heavy at Zaragoza, where Huerta forces were reported to be in a desperate struggle. General Villa, at noon said the Huerta forces had been driven back, but the battle was still in progress at Zaragoza.

This was the second day's conflict between the Huerta and rebel forces. The Huerta forces were reported to have 10,000 to 12,000 men. The rebels were reported to have 12,000 men.

The battle was reported to have been a hard-fought one. The Huerta forces were reported to have been driven back, but the battle was still in progress at Zaragoza.

All hotels in Juarez were cleared during the night by the rebels, for use as hospitals. Many wounded were reported to be in the field.

A machine gun platoon and troop of the Thirtieth United States cavalry, under Captain John H. Lewis, were reported to have been sent to reinforce the Huerta forces.

The machine gun platoon was to reinforce the Huerta forces. The Thirtieth United States cavalry, under Captain John H. Lewis, were reported to have been sent to reinforce the Huerta forces.

The rebels say they are anxious to capture General Salazar so that he may be hanged to a telephone pole in Juarez. Though the Huerta forces were repelled from their attack on Juarez, the rebels say they are anxious to capture General Salazar so that he may be hanged to a telephone pole in Juarez.

Escape from Death as
Train Wrecks Machine

(By Associated Press.)
SPRINGFIELD, Mass., Nov. 25.—An automobile wreck with a miraculous escape from fatality happened last night when a highway passed over the tracks of the New York Central railroad. The car, a 1912 model, was driven by a woman and was carrying a man and a woman. The car was struck by a train and was thrown into the air. The man and woman were killed, but the woman was miraculously saved.

Atlanta Owes Recognition to Corn Club Boys

Atlanta, always generous, owes to the Georgia Corn Club boys to open her homes to them when they come here for two days next week as their sole reward of a meritorious service rendered in the splendid material development of the state. Atlanta owes every Atlantian—profits as a result of their labors.

After earnest effort on the part of the Atlanta Chamber of Commerce, homes have been secured for less than 450 of them; everyone of the 1,000 who are coming, is entitled to this brief and transient recognition.

Homes are needed now for 550 more of them.

Will you take two? Telephone or write your reply to the Atlanta Chamber of Commerce.

ATTORNEY DEMANDS THAT "JIM" CONLEY BE PLACED ON TRIAL

When Judge Hill Refuses, to
Try Negro for Part in Phagan
Murder, Lawyer Demands
Early Hearing

Judge H. H. Hill Tuesday morning declined to allow Jim Conley, the negro sweeper at the National Penitentiary, where Mary Phagan met her death, to be placed on trial.

Conley was brought in court and Solicitor Dorey invited the court's attention to the fact that the case had been brought up once before and postponed at the judge's direction. Judge Hill said:

"I shall not take up this case, nor permit it to be taken up."

At this point Attorney W. M. Smith, representing Conley, interrupted to make a formal demand on the minutes for a trial.

Judge Hill continued:

"Wait a minute, Mr. Smith. It is the court's opinion that this case should be taken up until the final disposition of the case against the principal perpetrator of the crime."

Attorney Smith then asked permission to file a formal demand on the minutes for a trial.

Judge Hill said:

"You have that right, and if the demand is in proper form the court is powerless."

The demand was filed then. This means that the case against Jim Conley must be tried at the next term of court, as the judge declined to try it during the present term.

The next term will be held during January and February. The case probably will not be taken up by the court until the latter part of the term.

The demand filed by Attorney Smith was forecast in The Journal Monday afternoon. As predicted then, it waived Conley's right of trial by jury, admitting all the facts urged by the state.

This will resolve the case to one of argument between the solicitor and Mr. Smith, with Judge Hill as the arbitrator empowered to decide.

The issue would be whether Conley should be punished as for a misdemeanor, the maximum penalty of which is twelve months in the reformatory, or for a felony, the maximum punishment of which is the charge against him being three years in the penitentiary. Attorney Smith contended that neither of the two indictments against Conley covers the case against him.

SUNNY SKIES GREET WHITE HOUSE BRIDE; EAST-ROOM A BOWER

Ambassadors and Cabinet Officers, Leaders of Official and Social Circles Don Gold Attire for Wedding

CEREMONY WILL BEGIN AT 4:30 O'CLOCK TODAY

Only 400 Guests Invited, but Pageant Will Equal Any of Former East Room Weddings

(By Associated Press.)
WASHINGTON, Nov. 25.—Indian summer weather ushered in the wedding day of Miss Jessie Woodrow Wilson and Francis Bowes Sayre.

Ceremonies began early rolling up to the White House portico and there was a distinct touch of holiday atmosphere everywhere.

In the interior of the White House a floral bower in itself everything was quiet and in readiness for the ceremony at 4:30 o'clock. At the executive offices some of the wedding guests came early to pay their respects to President Wilson.

Charles W. McAlpin, secretary of Princeton university, Andrew C. Imrie, Edward Howe, Prof. Osgood and Farrot, and a score of long-time residents of Princeton were early to the ceremony.

Mr. Sayre and his best man, Dr. Grenfell, took a long walk in the morning sun were at the White House for luncheon.

Miss Mary Tumulty, the nine-year-old daughter of Secretary and Mrs. Tumulty, was to be the youngest guest at the wedding. Nine of the cabinet children had been invited.

It became known today that the couple will spend the greater part of their honeymoon abroad. It is thought they will sail within a week, though the time of their departure and destination is being kept secret.

Notwithstanding its official brilliancy, there was a distinct touch of homeliness in the day's affair. The Rev. Sylvester W. Beach, pastor of the First Presbyterian church at Princeton, N. J., where Miss Wilson long taught in Sunday Bible class and where the Wilson family dwells for a score of years, had been selected as the officiating clergyman.

The bride was escorted by the eldest daughter of the president, Miss Margaret Wilson, and the bride's younger sister, Miss Eleanor Randolph Wilson and Miss Mary G. White, of Baltimore.

Miss Adeline Russell Scott, of Princeton and Miss Katherine Brown, of Atlanta, the last a relative, and the others chums of girlhood days.

The best man was Dr. Wilfred T. Grenfell, with whom Sayre spent many months ministering to the sick and needy on the rock-bound Labrador coast.

The ushers were the groom's college mates—Benjamin R. Burton, of New York, Dr. De Witt Spencer Clark, Jr., of Salem, Mass., Dr. Gilbert Horan, of Montclair.

President Finley of Southern Dead Chorus Girl Bride Gives Up $30,000 To Gain Possession of Baby Daughter

MRS. JACQUES BRADLEY SWIFT.

Mrs. Jacques Bradley Swift, Once Wife of Young Atlantan, Renounces Fortune for Child—Settled Out of Court

The threatened court fight between Charles T. Swift, well known young clubman, and Mrs. Jacques Bradley Swift, formerly an actress, for the custody of their three-year-old daughter, Lena Swift, has been averted by a settlement out of court by which the wife retains the child, but accepts $30,000 cash in lieu of monthly payments of alimony, which would amount to more than $30,000.

The consent decreed, settling the habeas corpus and injunction suit brought on September 22 by Harvey Hill and Arminius Wright, attorneys for Swift, was placed on the minutes of the court late Tuesday afternoon.

At the same time the bill by which the Swifts attempted to wrest the child from her former wife and place her in the custody of himself or his mother, Mrs. Lena Swift Huntley, was made void.

The paper contains a copy of the court's order giving alimony and the custody of the child to Mrs. Swift at the time she was granted a divorce from young Swift, April 1, 1912, on a petition charging him with a statutory offense.

After setting the court's order, Swift's petition to regain his daughter and to have the alimony decree declared void says:

"Petitioner further shows that since said divorce verdict was granted, awaiting the said Mrs. Charles Thomas Swift alimony and the custody of said minor child, it has come to the knowledge of the petitioner that the said Mrs. Charles Thomas Swift is not a proper person to care for and rear the said minor child; for that, the said child is being reared under immoral and indecent influences, likely to degrade its moral character and devote it to a vicious life."

"Petitioner shows that, unknown to him and prior to the date of said verdict and decree, told, during and from the month of January, 1912, and continuing until this date, the said Mrs. Charles Thomas Swift has been living in a immoral life; that she has indulged in excessive drinking of liquor to the extent of intoxication; that she has effectually abandoned the said minor child, and entrusted its care and attention to a colored nurse, and such other persons as she could obtain to care for it."

"The petition further sets out that at the time of the filing of the husband's bill the child was in the temporary care of its grandmother, Mrs. Lena Swift Huntley, under the best of moral conditions, where the social and financial conditions were such as to be conducive to the proper rearing of the child."

On the bill, a temporary order was issued by Judge Bell restraining young Mrs. Swift from taking the child out of the jurisdiction of the court, or interfering with Mrs. Huntley in its temporary custody.

GIVEN UP $30,000.
By the order, granted at the time Mrs. Swift was given her divorce, she was to receive $125 per month alimony until the child was married. If she married she was then still to receive $100 per month for the support of the child until she was 18 years of age.

DANIEL BROS. CO. GIVES $500, ATLANTA JOURNAL $2,000, FOR OGLETHORPE—WHO IS NEXT?

OGLETHORPE UNIVERSITY, the new, is twenty-four hours nearer realization than it was yesterday.

The revival of the honored old institution is as certain as the coming of the Christmas season.

LET US OF ATLANTA HASTEN THAT REVIVAL.

The Journal has suggested the method. Nine years ago Atlantians subscribed $265,000 toward a similar enterprise of much smaller proportion. Our citizens are asked now for $250,000 to insure the re-founding of a great university in ambitious proportions. WHAT WAS GIVEN ONCE AND NOT USED, CAN BE GIVEN AGAIN. That is the way Atlanta can make Oglethorpe university a fact.

Every subscriber on that list enrolled in the year 1904 should transfer his or her subscription without delay to the Oglethorpe university fund.

IF THAT IS DONE, ATLANTA'S $250,000 WILL BE RAISED WITHIN A WEEK.

EVERYTHING DEPENDS ON WHAT THE PEOPLE OF ATLANTA DO NOW.

The Journal never has asked others to go where it was unwilling to lead. It does not do that now.

In 1904 The Journal subscribed $2,000 to the fund to bring two other colleges to Atlanta and combine them.

Now The Journal renews that subscription for Oglethorpe University. THE JOURNAL LEADS THE PROCESSION WITH $2,000.

In 1904 Daniel Brothers, the Peachtree clothiers, gave $200 to the fund then being raised.

Tuesday morning Daniel Brothers renewed that and increased it. DANIEL BROTHERS GIVE $500 NOW FOR OGLETHORPE UNIVERSITY.

Who's next? General Clifford L. Anderson answers—with $500, renewing his old subscription.

And next? William Hurd Hulley, renewing his subscription of $100.

And next? Reverend S. L. Morris, renewing his subscription of $400.

And next? LET'S WORK FAST!

RAILWAY PRESIDENT STRUCK BY PARALYSIS AT WASHINGTON, D. C.

Fatal Stroke Comes Without Warning as Official Leaves His Home for Offices—Was Apparently Well

OFFICES OF HIS SYSTEM GET NEWS FROM JOURNAL

Succeeded Samuel Spencer, Who Was Killed in Wreck on His Own Road in Virginia Seven Years Ago

(By Associated Press.)
WASHINGTON, Nov. 25.—W. W. Finley, president of the Southern Railway, died at his home here this afternoon. He was struck with paralysis at breakfast this morning and sank rapidly.

President Finley was stricken with apoplexy and hemorrhage of the brain while he was preparing to leave his home for his office, where he had been attending to his affairs before the fatal stroke.

President Finley had been apparently in good health, and the fatal stroke came without warning. With his family he had recently returned from his country home at Warrenton, Va., and reopened his town home in the capital. He is survived by a widow, a son and three daughters.

President Finley, who succeeded President Samuel Spencer several years ago, was extremely popular among Atlantians whom he had met on his frequent visits here. He had done all in his power to build up the south and southern industries and had favored Atlanta in many ways.

Officials of the railroad at Atlanta were ignorant of President Finley's death until the Associated Press dispatches brought the news to The Journal, and they received their first notification from this newspaper.

President Finley was a native of Mississippi. He was born at Pass Christian, Miss., on September 2, 1852. He was the son of a Southern planter engaged in the railroad business on May 1, 1873. He accepted a position at New Orleans, with the New Orleans, Jackson and the Chicago, St. Louis and New Orleans roads. For three years he was stenographer in the vice president's office.

When the company with which he was connected failed, he was discharged. He then went to Chicago, where he was employed as a stenographer. He was promoted to be general secretary of the company.

MOTHER BEGS A LESSON ON CARE OF HER BABY

Child Welfare Exhibit Causes
Unusual Interest—Opens on December 1

An incident illustrating the value to the community of the Child Welfare exhibit even before the doors of the exhibition are open, was the appeal made by an Atlanta mother, who read in The Journal Sunday the story setting forth the practical knowledge which will be imparted to mothers through the various departments of the exhibit.

"I read where women would be taught to wash their babies the right way; feed them right, and generally care for them. I may not be able to attend the exhibit, but I want you just send some one to give me one lesson!" she wrote Mrs. H. K. Krieger, chairman of the baby department of the exhibit.

Mrs. Krieger has not only secured the volunteer service of a registered nurse for the lesson, but accompanied the nurse to the home of this anxious mother and gave the information desired. It is the purpose of the Child Welfare exhibit to instruct thousands of mothers in these essential and practical care, upon which the life of the child depends.

Not only will charts show what is being done for children in the most progressive communities, but there will be active exhibits of how to do it in this community. A kitchen is being installed in one of the rooms of the old Levee house, where each day lessons will be given in the care and preparation of milk, and other foods for babies. The age and size of the baby will be considered and even the amount of food the child should have will be indicated.

The baby may be brought and looked after by the mother, and subsequently be given before he leaves the building for him. Or his mother, dropping in when she can at the exhibit, may learn a valuable lesson each day, and taking it home, apply it.

The charts being installed at the welfare exhibit each day bear directly upon the alarming death rate of children before the first year of their lives has been past, and records show that much of the mortality is due to the ignorance of the mother in the little everyday care which every woman should know, and is being given an opportunity to know. The exhibition begins December 1.

"FOLLOW ME"

"I am the good shepherd: the good shepherd layeth down his life for the sheep. He that is a hireling fleeth." ---John 10:11-12.

Miss Edith Appleyard died Monday.

She was once matron at Agnes Scott College.

Christ touched her heart.

She wished to serve.

She said:—

"Send me to any place—only put me where I can reach and help the neathermost."

Chief Beavers closed Atlanta's houses of shame.

Help was offered the fallen; Bell; Sommers was saved; she gave money to found a home for them.

Miss Appleyard came to give her life.

She left Agnes Scott College.

She became matron of Martha's Home.

She went into the hells of earth to save her sisters.

She lived with them.

God alone knew the strain.

For few helped. Many hindered.

Christian people, not understanding, tried to close this refuge for the hopeless.

The Police Board classed it as a nuisance. A great paper termed it "a disorderly house."

Miss Appleyard never complained.

Without rest, without ceasing, day in, day out, she served.

She found only happiness in the work.

She was saving the lost.

She was bringing order out of chaos.

The way was becoming clear.

But self had been forgotten: sickness came.

Years ago a man had sinned.

A woman was infected.

No one knows how many lives have suffered for their shame—innocent lives have been sacrificed for their sin.

A girl came to Martha's Home.

She brought their curse.

A man had put it upon her.

It found the lips of Miss Appleyard, who by love was trying to bring the girl back to life.

Miss Appleyard is dead.

Science fought for her life.

Men and women prayed that she might stay.

But God called. He had work elsewhere for her.

With Paul she realized that it is better far to be away and with Jesus.

For weeks—months, unable to use her tongue, she has written her thoughts. Each note has radiated joy and hope, although she knew that death was daily drawing nearer.

Asked if she had a message to send the students of Agnes Scott, she wrote:—

"I do thank my Savior that He has permitted me just a glimpse of this great work and I hope that it may be their work too."

To the girls of the Martha Berry School, she sent this word:—

"I have no message but this, that they may realize their wonderful opportunity before they are gone."

Their work—their wonderful opportunity.

Our work—our wonderful opportunity.

Your work—your wonderful opportunity—before you are gone.

Her last conscience expression was a note to this Committee. She said:—

"All the Executive Committee—My love. Tell them how grateful I am to have been counted worthy to share in the great work. May God overrule all mistakes."

"His great work."

Jesus said:

"Feed my lambs—tend my sheep—Follow Me."

"I am the good shepherd: the good shepherd layeth down his life for the sheep. He that is a hireling fleeth."

"If any man will come after Me, let him deny himself, and take up his cross daily, and follow Me."

"Whosoever doth not bear his own cross—cannot be my disciple."

Miss Appleyard has shown again the only way, "a new and living way," the cross of Christ.

God grant that you and we may take it up today and follow Him.

No word of sorrow should be heard.

This Thanksgiving Day, let us go up to God's place of prayer.

And there, in the house of our Father we will give thanks for her life.

But most of all, for her triumphant death.

God lead us in the way that she has shown.

Undeclared Navy Eleven Rules 10 to 7 Favorite To Beat Army Saturday

White House Bride and Husband Will Be Present With Woodrow Wilson and 27 Other Members of Bridal Party—Practically Every One of 41,000 Seats Have Been Sold, and $3 Seats Are Now Selling as High as $50 Per Pair—Washington Society Present, but New York Seems to Pass Up the Event—Bracing Weather Promises for Big Clash

NEW YORK, Nov. 25.—Bracing weather has succeeded the Indian summer conditions which prevailed here last week, holding out auspicious prospects for the Army-Navy football game here next Saturday. The starting of this gridiron classic within the arena of the new baseball stadium at the Polo Grounds will give it a more up-to-date setting than the game has had before and from all indications will attract official Washington and society generally to an even greater extent than has been the rule.

It is announced that practically every one of the 41,000 tickets have been taken and that the demand is still so great that $3 seats are selling as high as $50 a pair, while boxes can no longer be obtained at $100.

The list of box holders on the Army side of the field was announced today. President Wilson, his wife, and 27 other members of the bridal party are on this side and it is understood that a generation of twenty-year-olds has been made for his party, which probably will include the president's son, Mr. and Mrs. Francis Davis. This probably will be the first public appearance of the couple following the wedding festivities in Washington today.

Reservations on the Army side also have been made for practically all of the members of the president's cabinet, including the secretary of the navy, who naturally would find his place on the opposite side of the field. The representatives of the Army will include Secretary of War, Mr. D. H. Garrison, Leonard Wood, General Thomas H. Barry, Colonel G. P. Thomas, superintendent of the United States Military academy, and a number of high-ranking officers in the military service. Those who have been named for the Army side are nearly a dozen of the United States senators on the Army side, but there is only one of the New York society shown in that section. One of the conspicuous names of box holders on the Army side is Thomas J. Lynch, president of the National Baseball League. Governor Glavin and Major Kline of New York will be on the Army side.

The midshipmen are the undefeated eleven, while the Army side has been decisively outplayed by Notre Dame and in other games this season have failed to make creditable showing.

In local betting the Navy is a strong favorite.

Tech High '11' Plays Boys' Hi

Should Tech High school win from the boys' side of the field, the team will have finished their schedule without losing a game. The team is composed of the state, including Riverside, Locust Grove, Georgia Military Academy, Stone Mountain and others. The only teams of any note that have not played are Georgia Military Academy and Gordon. Riverside defeated Tech High last Saturday, giving Tech High the decision over these two teams.

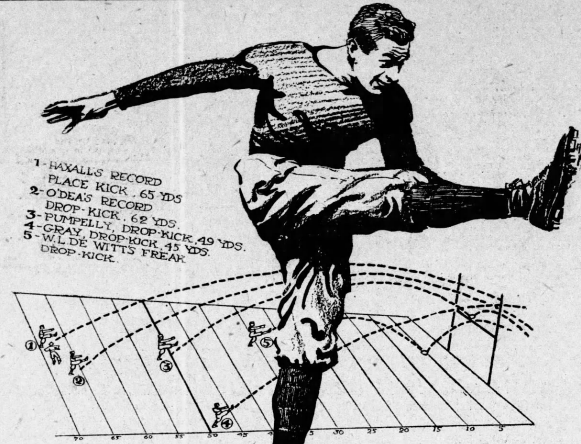

We regret very much that we had to leave a gap in our schedule. The team of a conflict in dates with the Prep school, but since Gordon has no claim whatever to the state championship, we have decided to play the game.

The contention of Riverside that they placed substituted against us is one that we do not accept. The same team that played against Gordon a week later, and their story is the same. We agree with them that the score did not reflect the relative merits of the two teams; since they made their only score in the last quarter, we should have a forward pass, Stripes to Townsend.

Should we lose to High school we would lose the championship of Georgia Military college.

Very respectfully,
R. T. WILFARY,
Faculty Manager.

Robinson, End, Auburn Leader

Dixie Champions Elect Star End to Captain Team in 1914, Pitts Runs Second

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)
AUBURN, Ala., Nov. 25.—H. W. Robinson, star end of the Auburn football team, was last night elected captain of the 1914 team, at the banquet tendered to the team which won the S. I. A. A. championship by defeating Georgia in Atlanta last Saturday. Pitts, the big Auburn center, came second in the voting for captain.

The banquet was one of the most brilliant events of its kind in Auburn's history, being attended by the entire student body and the members of the faculty. College spirit ran high, and the prospects of another winning team next year are very bright.

As a token of the school's appreciation of the splendid services of H. W. Robinson, captain of this year's team, he will be given a trip to New York to see the Army-Navy game next Sunday.

Picture shows "Hob" Baker, Princeton's field goal kicker, and a diagram of the greatest kicks in football.

By kicking five field goals in the game against Yale Saturday and thereby winning a victory for Harvard, Charles K. Brickley won a place in football history as one of the greatest greatest kickers the game has ever known. The man who can kick inside the thirty-five or perhaps forty-yard line, they do not arouse quite such enthusiasm as the man who could boot a field goal from the fifty-yard line.

The most remarkable and longest field goal on record was kicked by J. T. Haxall, of Princeton, in 1882. Haxall placed-kicked from the sixty-five-yard line over the Yale goal, saving Princeton from a shutout.

Next came the marvelous sixty-two-yard drop kick of Pat O'Dea, who starred at Wisconsin. O'Dea made his record drop kick in 1896 on Shepherd field, Evanston, against Northwestern.

One of the greatest place kicks ever made was John De Witt's, in 1903, when, with Yale leading Princeton 6 to 0, he kicked a twenty-five-yarder, which put Princeton in the lead.

In the Yale-Princeton game last year, Pat O'Dea kicked a field goal from the fifty-yard line, giving Princeton a lead, 6 to 2. Pumphly, in the closing moments of the game, kicked a forty-yarder, which tied the score.

Pat O'Dea drop-kicked fifty yards against Chicago and forty-five yards against Minnesota in 1907, and 1908 repeated the feat against Minnesota and thirty-five yards against Michigan.

In 1908 Walter Eckersall, for Chicago, booted five field goals against Nebraska. Eckersall made two twenty-five-yarders and three forty-five-yarders in 1908.

In 1909 John W. Wile, placed-kicker for Yale and twice kicked thirty-five yards against Cornell. In 1908 he kicked fifty yards and once forty-five yards against Cornell.

George Carver, now a ball player, drop-kicked forty-five and thirty yards, for Yale, in 1909 twice drop-kicked thirty yards, and thirty yards each in 1910 and Brown beat Yale 21 to 0.

Last year Brickley made a place kick of forty yards and two drop kicks of thirty yards each. Harvard beating Dartmouth 16 to 6. He drop-kicked thirty yards and then twenty yards for the game's only score. This year Brickley's toe defeated Princeton 5 to 0, drop-kicking from the twenty-yard line. And his last and greatest achievement was in defeating Yale with five field goals Saturday, thereby equalling the feat of Eckersall against Nebraska in 1908.

Harvard Loses Three Linemen

Storer, Hitchcock and O'Brien Have Played in Last Game for the Crimson

(By Associated Press.)
NEW YORK, Nov. 25.—The supremacy among football teams of the Harvard-Yale-Princeton triangle having been settled for this year, followers of the sport are taking stock of the football timber that will be left for next year. Harvard, this year's champion, will lose three valuable members of the line—Storer, Hitchcock and O'Brien—by graduation. The three men who could boot a field goal from the fifty-yard line, they do not arouse quite such enthusiasm as the man who could boot a field goal from the fifty-yard line.

Tech Team Scrimmagas Monday for Last Time Before Clemson Game

Loeb, Thomson and Means Have Scrimmaged for Last Time on Tech Flats, and Many Students Shed Tears as They Walk Away From Field—Scrub Team Dismissed for Season, Varsity Relying on Signal Practice Tuesday and Wednesday to Put Them on Edge for Turkey Day Clash, Yellowjackets in Great Form and Expect to Fight

MONDAY afternoon was a big day at Grant field. There were those who were glad the season had closed, and there were others who left the field with tears in their eyes, for it was the last action of the 1913 season. Though the going was hard all the way, there was not the knock-down-and-drag-out spirit that generally characterizes the afternoon battles.

Thursday the Jackets wind up the season with Clemson at Grant field and until then will have nothing but signal drill. The varsity has had a long rest, as they did not play Saturday, and the Georgia game was the last big scrimmage they were in. The varsity played good ball and the team seems to have taken a new lease on life. They are going good and the game Thursday should be one of the best of the season.

Those who have scrimmaged the last time on what to them was the "Plata," are Loeb, Thomson, Cook and Means. These men have played out their time, and it is a remarkable fact that every one of these men had to play scrub ball for at least a year before he made the big team. Not a single one of them came to the school with a previous record. Captain Cook had played football before he came to Tech, but he was not a varsity player.

The varsity was dismissed for the season with the promise that they would be sure to get a place on the varsity for next year. Battered and bruised from being used as a battling block for the past three months, the scrubs left the field with a heavy heart, but more shot at the big team. All of the regulars will be in the game Thursday and the Yellowjackets will give a good account of themselves.
